Nieu-Bethesda is a natural oasis, and was started in 1875 as a church town and gained municipal states in 1886. Nieu-Bethesda is probably the only town in South Africa where we can still experience the calm, relaxing and peaceful life our forefathers lived a hundred years ago in our lovely South Africa with our gravel roads, no liquor stores, no gas stations, no ATMs, no court, no street lights, lots of peace, joy, respect and love. Children playing in the river as the local swimming pool, the horse and donkey carts a normal transport method, the rooster announcing the break of day, and everybody stroll safely, respect, greet, and chat to friends and strangers on the street.

TESTIMONIAL / REVIEW

A step back in time but with all of the modern amenities. This house is BEAUTIFUL. A lot of thought and care clearly went into making sure that guests will be extremely comfortable in this place. The kitchen is a dream and very well-equipped with high-quality products. Definitely bring groceries and use the kitchen to its fullest potential. Also, THANK YOU for being dog-friendly and having WiFi; as I mentioned to the manager, if I have my best bud with me and can work, I never have to go home! I could go on and on, but I was particularly impressed by the high-quality towels in the bathrooms. No detail has been spared. I will definitely be back, and I will tell everyone I know about this house. Various livestock roam the street. When I arrived, there were two horses; at some point someone from quite far away yelled for them, and they took off running towards home. This is Nieu-Bethesda in a nutshell. Useful information: The coffee in the kitchen is not instant - use the coffee maker (learned from experience, and brewed coffee is MUCH better than instant anyway!). The town is extremely safe; the opposite of JoBurg. -The WiFi is fast! The WiFi is satellite, as no fiber is available. I was able to stream with no delay, and using the internet for work was a breeze. There is a wood-burning fireplace, electric blankets on the beds, and fans/heaters for all types of weather. In the hot summer months, the house stays nice and cool because of the way its constructed. There are lamps for during load shedding. The beds are extremely comfortable. The manager is a delight, full of information, and enthusiastic but definitely not intrusive - exactly what you want from an Airbnb host.
